Classes to be held @ Pitt CEC in Homewood on Wednesdays, twice a month, from 8:30–10:30am

Thriving communities are built on the restaurants, shops, professional services, and other local businesses that make up those neighborhoods. Take advantage of the University of Pittsburgh's wealth of resources and begin creating value for your business and your community today.

The BizFIT/Community Power to Prosper Program, a no-cost, 6-month certificate program provided in collaboration between Pitt's Institute for Entrepreneurial Excellence (IEE) and Riverside Center for Innovation (RCI), is designed for owners of existing inner city businesses in the construction, building, and maintenance services fields interested in entrepreneurship and growth. The program's goal is to identify barriers and opportunities and develop strategies for growth in sales, profits, and enterprise value.

Ideal for Business Owners:

- Who have been in business for at least 1-2 years
- Who have at least 1 full time employee
- Who are looking for new ways to sustain and grow their businesses

The Institute for Entrepreneurial Excellence (part of the Office of Innovation & Entrepreneurship) gratefully acknowledges the support of our UCEP sponsors:
